

In Elabora, our requirement is to listen, to analyze, to improve, to link people, to give value to capabilities and resources

It is our commitment to provide support to companies in their project management, from process analysis, to methods, procedures, instruments development, and a practice implementation oriented models that integrates the strategic planning with the development targets participating to their operative efficiency improvement coordinating the development and the management of support structures to their project activities

Elabora, together with a dense professional's network, is able to offer a highly personalized service, ensuring maximum flexibility, efficiency and transparency, for

- research, development, analysis, prototyping and engineering of technologies in the mechanical, electrical, electronic, computer and system industries
- staff selection, coordination and training in production areas
- analysis and preparation of feasibility studies, risk assessment and technical assistance programs
- studies for trademarks, patents and intellectual properties registration
- foreign markets integration program support
- linguistic, legal and logistic assistance related to abroad investment projects

this document cannot be reproduced nor modified nor sent to third parties without an authorization from Elabora SAGL